Dear Bill,

The Brockport Community Museum is pleased to announce the dedication of a panel interpreting the recently dedicated mural in Sagawa Park depicting the history of Brockport. The mural was made possible through a grant from the Erie Canalway National Heritage Corridor and donations from BISCO, ProBrockport and Walk! Bike! Brockport!.

This panel was made possible through a donation from 4th and 5th grade classes of Mary Wanzer and Eileen Jungbluth at the Hill Elementary School. We are again reminded that the two educational institutions in our community, Brockport Central School District and The College at Brockport, are an important part of the fabric of our community.

Details regarding the dedication are attached. We are delighted to honor this aspect of our history, and hope that you will be able to join us on Friday, December 2, 2016 at 3:30 p.m. for this dedication in Sagawa Park. Following the dedication we have been invited to join the First Friday Celebration at 4:00 p.m. at the Alumni House on The College at Brockport campus.

If you are planning on attending and would like to be contacted should inclement weather require a postponement you can contact me at jbrawn1@yahoo.com or 585.637.5340

Sincerely,

Joyce K. Brawn
Secretary

Brockport Community MUSEUM
A MUSEUM WITHOUT WALLS

Mission:

The Brockport Community Museum is a "Museum Without Walls" that brings local history into the community. It was chartered by the New York State Education Department in 2002.

Vision:

– Make local history accessible to the community at no cost.
- Being a Museum Without Walls, there is no admission fee.

– Develop awareness of community needs.
- Identify various audiences and uses: Genealogy; Curriculum; Tourism, etc.

– Enable on-going resident participation in Museum projects and activities.
- Encourage response to Museum projects through email, blogs, etc.
- Grow the "Friends of the Museum" (per our bylaws).

– Find and preserve history not yet publicly available, before it is lost.
- Interview groups, individuals and families; record memories, images and artifacts.

– Support other local history repositories.
- Work with existing and emerging local history Museums, Libraries, Archives and Societies.
- Consolidate existing content from various sources into single focus topics for use in Museum projects.

– Increase our visibility to the community to enable this.
- Utilize traditional and social media for the benefit of the Museum, its members, constituents and projects.

About the panel

This panel describing the nearby mural by distinguished Rochester area muralist Rick Muto is entitled "Portraits of Our Past", because its theme is a visual presentation of people, objects, and structures that have played important roles in Brockport's history. The interpretive panel that accompanies it identifies and describes the images presented. Their importance spans the period from the founding of the village by Hiel Brockway and James Seymour in 1822 to that and those that are still serving the community, such as Hartwell Hall and Bill Hullfish's Golden Eagle String Band.

The Erie Canal appears prominently in the mural to represent the key role it has played in the founding of the village, its mid-19th century growth and prosperity, and its importance today in attracting the tourist trade to Brockport.
