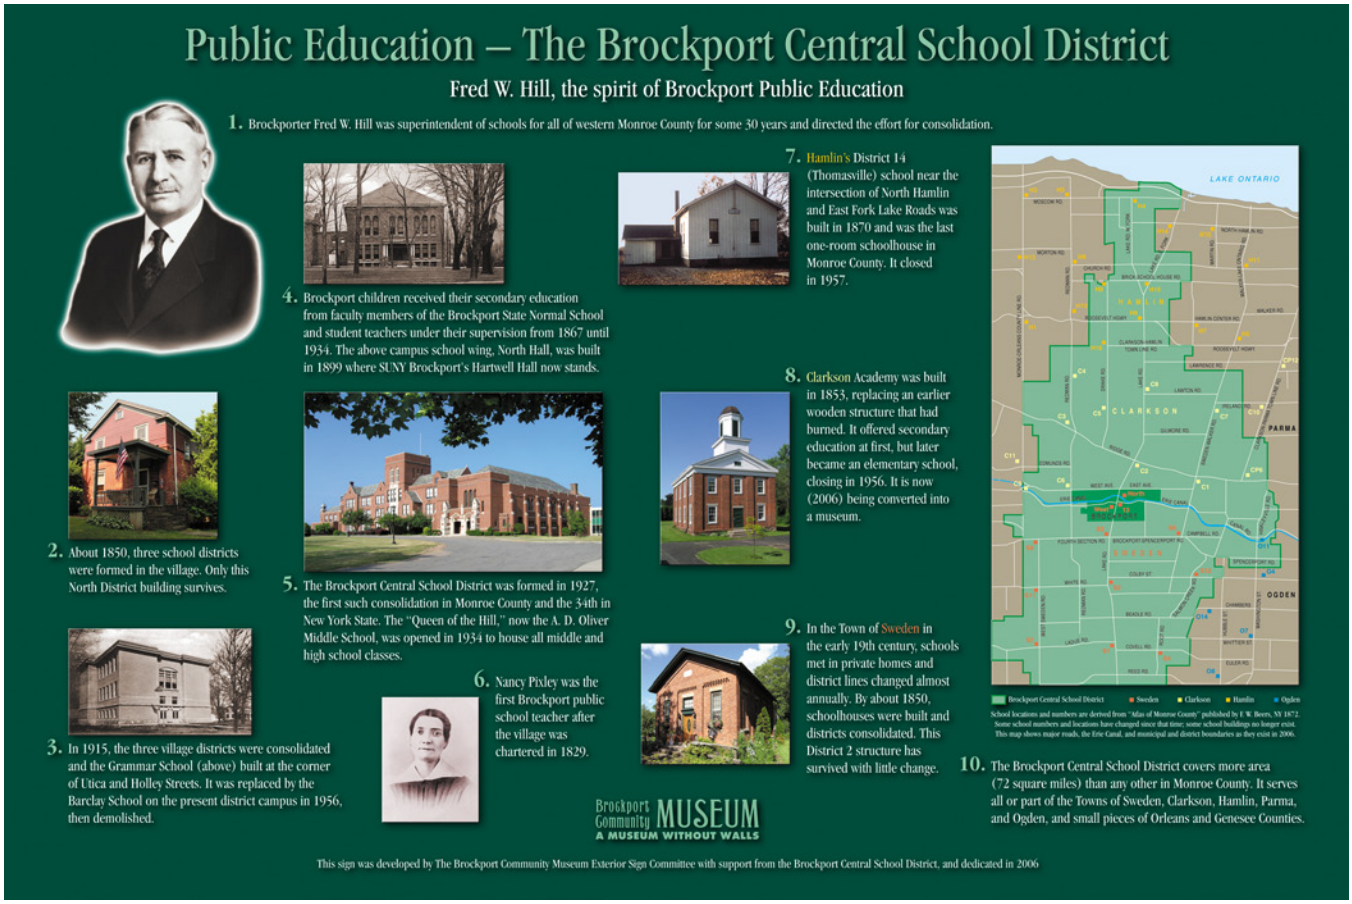
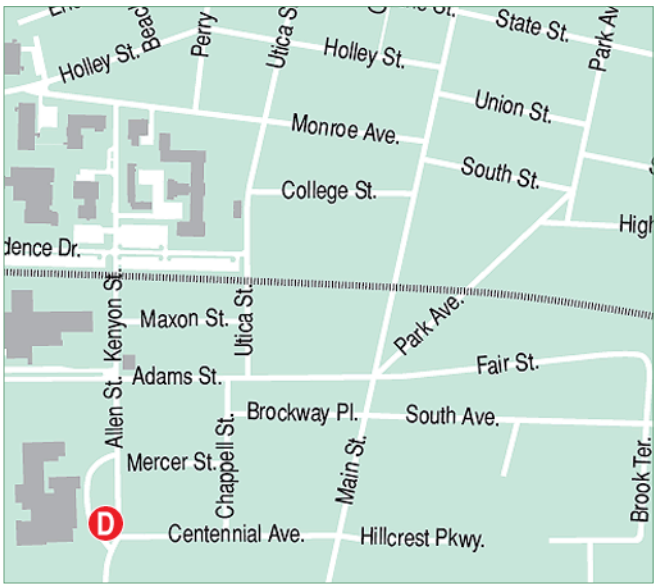
Interpretive Panels Project



This panel is the first placed by the Museum. It was sponsored by the Brockport Central School District, and dedicated December 15, 2006.



This panel is located in front of the A.D. Oliver Middle School, across from Centennial Avenue. Map: Norm Frisch

View facing northwest. Photo: Norm Frisch

Local history comes alive!

This first-in-a-series Interpretive Panel, about public education in Brockport, was produced by the Brockport Community Museum in cooperation with the Brockport Central School District and dedicated Friday, December 15, 2006.

Erin Hill (great granddaugther to Fred W. Hill) shares some family history with Hill Elementary School students. She points out where she lives in Adams Basin, on the homestead of Fred W. Hill. Students now know a little bit more about the name on their school. Behind her are (l-r): Hollis Webster, holding the youngest relative, EJ Webster, and Fred Hill Webster. Photo: Debbie Moyer, BCSD

Attending the dedication were area dignitaries, relatives of Fred W. Hill, local citizens, Museum Board members and Hill School fourth grade classes that study local history – led by teachers Mary Wanzer, Lisa Montanaro and David Resseguie. Photo: Norm Frisch

(l-r): James C. Fallon, District Superintendent, accepts the Interpretive Panel from Allan Berry, Chair of the Historic Marker committee. William G. Andrews, Museum President, and Jacqueline Morris, Village of Brockport Historian (not shown) spoke, respectively, about the Museum and local history. Photo: Debbie Moyer, BCSD

INTERPRETIVE PANEL COMMITTEE

Allan Berry, Chair
William G. Andrews
George N. Dahl
Norm Frisch
Kory Hunsinger
Karlene VanDeusen

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Pat Baker, Museum Trustee and Debbie Moyer, BCSD Communications Specialist, managed dedication publicity; Rob Carges, BCSD IT Director, printed the program; James C. Fallon, BCSD Superintendent and Museum Trustee, helped form the direction of this panel and made his archives available; Jacqueline Morris, Brockport Historian and Museum Trustee, provided the original image of Nancy Pixley; Mary E. Smith, Hamlin Historian, provided many suggestions, the image of the Hamlin schoolhouse, and additional mapping resources; Bill Sweeting, BCSD Grounds Supervisor, designed and prepared the grounds site; The Village of Brockport helped with mailing.

PANEL IMAGE SOURCES

#1: Brockport Central School District (James Fallon); #2: Norm Frisch, original; #3: William Andrews, file; #4: William Andrews, file; #5: Norm Frisch, original; #6: Emily Knapp Museum, file (Jacqueline Morris); #7: Hamlin Northstar Museum, file (Mary E. Smith); #8: Norm Frisch, original; #9: Norm Frisch, original; #10: Norm Frisch, original.